Progressive Claim Break-down Forced Although There is Plenty HOOVER IS OBJECT
Remedy Measures Are Enumerated by Speakers

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—A breakdown in the industrial, financial and political leadership of America has thrust the nation into an economic depression which forces 25,000,000 persons to suffer in the midst of plenty, the national conference of progressive was told today by Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., at a round-table discussion of the unemployment problem.

A number of liberal-minded business men, labor leaders and legislators endorsed LaFollette's indictment of the nation's leaders. Calling on progressives everywhere to assume leadership in the economic crisis, LaFollette suggested they draft a program of legislative and economic remedies which would restore prosperity to the people.

Among remedial measures suggested by LaFollette and other speakers were:

- NAMES REMEDIES
- Creation of a federal agency to plan emergency to meet unemployment cycles.
- Legislation compelling industry to adopt unemployment insurance.
- Use of government ownership of utilities to check private extortion.
- Creation of a national economic council to advise the president and Congress on economic issues.
- The Hoover administration was assailed throughout the discussion for failing to meet the unemployment problem. LaFollette charged the president first tried to minimize conditions and then sought to block all remedial legislation. This was an indirect stab at the presidential veto of the Wagner unemployment relief bill and the administration opposition to federal funds for relieving distress.

PLACES BLAME
LaFollette blamed the depression on the public's losses in purchasing power. He said the administration sat idle while this happened and that neither industrial nor financial leadership could solve the problem.

"There is overwhelming evidence of desperate human suffering on the part of millions of our fellow citizens," said LaFollette. "Between six and seven millions have been totally unemployed. At least another 5,000,000 have been on such short time schedules that they have been unable to properly support their dependents. Not less than 25,000,000 people in the United States have suffered hardship, privation and want in the midst of plenty."

"The administration lacked either the will or the courage to meet this crisis," LaFollette declared. "At first, President Hoover minimized the problem, and then when the facts could no longer be denied, he used the influence of his great office to block the relief measures proposed in congress and insisted that relief be left entirely to voluntary assistance."

LaFollette declared the Progressives would hold a "balance of power" in the next Congress and admitted this gave them "an added responsibility to press for sound legislation upon the great issues confronting the nation."

MOATS' STORE IS ROBBED OF MONEY, GOODS

Thieves Use Crow-bar to Pry Front Door Open; Then Make Getaway

OBTAIN $27 IN CASH

Took Time to Drink Milk and Eat Cakes

Breaking into the grocery store of Joe Moats at Clinton and Corley-sts, some time late Wednesday or early Thursday, thieves took time to ransack the store, to take milk from the ice-box and to take cakes from their containers to eat as they drank the milk. The thieves did not obtain much money, getting $15 from the cash register and a number of pennies. They also broke open a chewing gum machine and obtained $12 in nickels.

The culprits, it is thought there were two persons, gained entrance by use of a crow-bar prying the front door of the store open. The front of the building is well lighted which would have made discovery of the pair easy had any one passed the corner at the time they were gaining entrance. The bar was found lying at the side of the building when police investigated the robbery Thursday.

ARTICLES GONE
Besides the money which was missing many other items were taken according to a check-up made by Moats. The thieves took seven plugs of Uncle Sam chewing tobacco, 16 pounds of bacon, a number of cigars and stogies, coffee, 30 plugs of Star-tobacco, bread, Spearmint gum, matches and Orleto stogies. Police are of the opinion that the robbers were a couple of hoboes passing through the city.

All roads leading from the city were traveled by members of the police and sheriff's department Thursday morning after the robbery was reported. Moats discovered the theft at 6:30 a. m. Thursday when he arrived to open the store for the day's business. He immediately called the police department and the sheriff's office was in turn notified.

Finger-prints were taken but no trace of the culprits has yet been found.

YOUTHS AWAIT MURDER TRIAL

Four Others to Follow Kirkland to Trial For Death of Arlene Draves.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Mar. 12.—With Virgil Kirkland awaiting formal sentence to life imprisonment for the ravishment and death of Arlene Draves, his 18 year old fiancée, lawyers today were perfecting a defense for four Gary youths who were jointly accused with Kirkland in the girl's death.

Kirkland's four companions probably will wait six weeks before their cases start. The four are Leon Stanford, David Thompson, Paul Barton and Henry Shirk. It was at Thompson's home that the fatal liquor party was held last November.

When young Kirkland, former high school football hero of Gary, is taken before Judge Grant Crum-packer next Monday for sentence his attorneys will appeal on the plea that he has found a "mystery woman" witness who will tell of Arlene having been hit on the head with a liquor bottle by a girl who was jealous of Kirkland's attentions.

Barratt O'Hara, defense attorney, explained that he had learned of the woman's story too late to introduce it as evidence during the youth's trial.

Kirkland probably will be taken to the Michigan City penitentiary immediately after sentence is passed Monday.

What's Delaying the Mayor?
Over a year has passed since Mayor Hedges made the statement that he would compel a shake-up in the Circleville police force. This statement was made only after The Circleville Herald pointed out the laxity of law enforcement in the city.

This shake-up was to be made as soon as the Civil Service Commission was reorganized and examinations held. The Commission has been reorganized, the examination has been held, and no doubt capable men are available to replace the members of the police force who, according to Mayor Hedges, will be asked to resign.

But when will this take place? Have the members of the police department corrected all the evils that existed when the mayor made this statement? Has the chief of police carried out all orders given by the safety director or the Mayor and have the officers co-operated with their superior officers?

We believe the Mayor's intentions were to do the things he stated over a year ago, but why delay putting in effect something that is just as important now as it was when he first made the statement.

We hope Mayor Hedges keeps his word.

The Song Has Ended But The Melody Lingers On!

"The song has ended but the melody lingers on!"
The title of this popular song a year or two ago might be applied to the trial for murder in which Horace Van Horn was acquitted late Wednesday afternoon.

The trial has ended but the memory will linger on in the minds of probably every person who had anything to do with it, either directly or indirectly. The case was a peculiar one. The Darby-two trustee, recognized beyond a doubt, as one of the leading citizens of his community, was charged with having run his Dodge automobile over the prostrate body of his neighbor and brother-in-law, William Lewis. Van Horn claimed he did not know he drove his car over Mr. Lewis and testimony builded by his defense attorneys gave enough power to this argument that it was a strong factor in the 'acquittal' verdict returned by 12 jurors.

HISTORY NOW
But that has become history at least as far as law is concerned. What of the principals in the case?

What of Horace Van Horn, the man who was given a new lease on life by the jury Wednesday? Naturally enough he will go back to his farm work in Darby-two where he still has as many friends as he had before the early Sunday morning when William Lewis met his death. This is assured when the list of names of witnesses called by the defense is scanned. Practically every person of reputed character in the Darby vicinity was called by the defense to prove the truth, veracity and temperance of Mr. Van Horn. More than 30 persons, testified that Van Horn was one of the most upright men of their community.

He will go back to his work but he will never forget the trial which he just passed through. The sting of having killed a man will forever have burned itself into his mind. Will this have any effect on him as a man?

Then to go to the other side of the case.

WHAT OF MRS. LEWIS
What will become of Mrs. Mary Lewis, widow of the slain man? She is now residing in the Williamsport vicinity where she removed after her husband's death. Naturally she will remember the fatal night when standing in the woods at her home she saw an automobile circle in the adjoining rye field three times to take life of the person most dear to her in the world. What effect will the death and eventual trial have on the remainder of her life?

Then Walter Lewis, son of the deceased man, and the person whom the defense claimed was responsible for the whole affair. Will the death of his father have any effect on the events of the remainder of his life? The defense charged through the trial that it was enmity between the younger Lewis and Van Horn that led to the disaster.

Then the most pitiful personage connected with the entire case comes in—Mrs. Cynthia Van Horn, wife of Horace Van Horn, and sister of Mrs. Lewis, who became insane after the death of Mr. Lewis. She was taken to the Athens state hospital where she is now an inmate, brought about almost entirely by worry over the possible fate of her husband. What effect will the outcome of the acquittal have on her when she learns of it? Will her mind gradually come back to her until she has become normal again? Many believe it will. Worry over her husband's arrest caused her to become insane and joy over his release may return her mind to her.

Isn't a murder case a terrible thing?

FIRE SWEEPS LORAIN TODAY

Business Block In Ohio City Destroyed; Damage is Estimated $60,000.

LORAIN, O., March 12.—A spectacular fire raged through a business block in the downtown section of Lorain today, resulting in a damage estimated at more than $60,000.

Fire Chief David E. Hatt declared the fire was one of the most disastrous in the history of Lorain. Firemen battled the flames for nearly seven hours before getting them under control.

Twenty persons, residing in the second-floor of the fire-swept structure, were forced to flee to the street. All escaped uninjured.

A two-story building, located at 325-333 Broadway, the city's main thoroughfare, was burned to the ground. The structure had been a landmark for years.

The destroyed building was occupied by the Bretz Book and Music Store, the Burgett Electric Company and the Roma Restaurant. None of the equipment in any of the stores was saved.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

HALLSVILLE MAN IS EXONERATED

Dewey Cryder of Hallsville, has been exonerated of any charge in connection with the death of Earl Richard Nagle, 24, of Carroll, Fairfield-co., who died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Columbus. The Cryder car skidded on the wet pavement and struck Nagle who was in the street adjusting chains on his car.

SYMPATHY CAUSE OF ACQUITTAL IS BELIEF

ASK REMOVAL OF NEW YORK MAYOR TODAY

Opposition to Jimmy Walker Grows When Churches Meet

PETITION GOVERNOR

Roosevelt Awaits Specific Charges to Act

NEW YORK, March 12.—Removal of Mayor James J. Walker will be asked and formal charges filed with Governor Roosevelt within two or three days it was announced today.

The city affairs committee of which John Haynes Holmes is chairman will take the step asking for an inquiry similar to that ordered in connection with charges against District Attorney Crain.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Churchmen and civic leaders were to meet in two separate conferences today to urge action by the Governor upon their demands for a city-wide investigation of municipal conditions.

At the same time, the first counter-attack upon the wave of public reform demanding removal from office of Mayor James J. Walker and District Attorney Thomas C. Crain was reported in course of preparation in the form of a counter-demand to be made by Crain for the removal of Judge Samuel Seabury as the Governor's commissioner.

AWAITS CHARGE
Governor Roosevelt himself in Albany, was said authoritatively to be unwilling to proceed against Mayor Walker in the absence of specific charges, and will decline to act, it was said, unless such charges are forthcoming.

The mayor, on his way to California on a vacation ordered by his physician, characterized it as "remarkable" that, in 25 years of public service, "the first investigation of me should come while I am out of town."

Crain, it was learned, has asked Attorney Samuel Undermyer to represent him as defense counsel in the investigation by Seabury ordered by the governor.

Seven protestant denominations were to be represented at the churchmen's meeting today, called by the Greater New York Federation of Churches.

MANY DENOMINATIONS
Denominations, representatives of which were to be present, were the Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Lutheran and Dutch Reformed.

Congregational ministers, meeting Tuesday night, adopted a resolution urging the Federation to take action "in the name of the United Protestant forces of the city," and also urged co-operation upon the part of all religious forces, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, regardless of denomination or creed.

The anniversary was observed quietly by Mr. Baer who still retains a position in the city as city fire inspector.

GIRL'S DEATH PROBE IS ON

Two Have Been Held For Questioning, One Freed; Hair is Thought Clue

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 2.—Police and criminologists searching for the slayer of Virginia Brooks, 10 years old, today pinned their hopes of solving the brutal murder on two strands of hair found clutched in the dead girl's hand.

The child's battered and dismembered body was found wrapped in a burlap bag on Camp Kearney mesa Tuesday, one month after she vanished on her way to school. Automobile tire tracks found near the body have failed to produce a tangible clue as to the slayer.

Two suspects were arrested and grilled and one of them, a chicken rancher, was ordered released when microscopic tests of strands of his hair proved to be of a different color and texture than those found with the girl's body.

The other suspect, D. J. Bryan, a youth said to have broken out of a state institution after his arrest in connection with a girl case, was held pending a microscopic test of his hair.

Those Interested in Outcome of Trial Blame Fight for Lewis' Death

CHARGE IS PRAISED
Defense Attorneys Elated Over Outcome of Case

A marked sympathy shown early in the trial of Horace Van Horn, 55, who was acquitted on Wednesday afternoon of murder in the first degree of William Lewis, 58, his neighbor, was one of the chief causes for the acquittal it was the consensus of post-trial opinion Thursday when the liberty given Van Horn was one of the chief subjects for discussion in the city, on street corners and through each office of the courthouse. It was the belief of many that the terrific beating Van Horn took at the hands of Walter Lewis, son of the deceased man, most of which appeared to be unnecessary, caused sympathetic chord to be struck early in the trial which, it is thought, was maintained until the verdict was reached.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Others are of the opinion that Van Horn was guilty of manslaughter and that a first degree murder charge should not have been filed against him. The charge to the jury by Judge Frank Clevenger, although it did not state that the jurors should find Van Horn guilty or not guilty, slightly implied that manslaughter might be found. The charge to the jury was one of the most heard here and Judge Clevenger was receiving flattering compliments from all sides Thursday.

Attorneys on both sides were pleased with the manner in which the barrister conducted his court.

From the start of the trial until its completion the defense stressed the point that Van Horn was badly beaten by Walter Lewis previous to William Lewis murdering his death. Attorney Frederick opening statement made it known that "accidental death" was the strong point of the defense but when the state introduced strong case against a possible accident finding, the defense changed its plan of attack and placed the blame for Mr. Lewis' death on a concussion Van Horn suffered from the beating he took from Walter Lewis.

The defense furnished expert testimony, including that of Dr. G. W. Heffner who stated that a man who took the beating Van Horn took was not responsible for acts which he committed. Heffner stated that a slight concussion would make a man irresponsible.

The state placed a strong case against the accidental part of the altercation by the tracks of the automobile through the field and by the testimony of Mrs. Fletcher Graham who saw lights of an automobile circling in the field.

ATTORNEYS PLEASED

Attorneys I. F. Snyder and C. A. Leist, who obtained Van Horn's freedom, were very much elated over the outcome of the case. Snyder contended from the time he took the case until it was completed that Mr. Van Horn would not be found guilty because of the beating Walter Lewis admitted he administered to him. He blamed the entire affair on the younger Lewis whom he said was back of it all.

The prosecution E. L. Crist, prosecuting attorney, and Tom A. Renick, his assistant, said Thursday that they did the best they could and were of the opinion that Van Horn should have been found guilty of manslaughter.

The Song Has Ended But The Melody Lingers On!

"The song has ended but the melody lingers on!"
The title of this popular song a year or two ago might be applied to the trial for murder in which Horace Van Horn was acquitted late Wednesday afternoon.

The trial has ended but the memory will linger on in the minds of probably every person who had anything to do with it, either directly or indirectly. The case was a peculiar one. The Darby-two trustee, recognized beyond a doubt, as one of the leading citizens of his community, was charged with having run his Dodge automobile over the prostrate body of his neighbor and brother-in-law, William Lewis. Van Horn claimed he did not know he drove his car over Mr. Lewis and testimony builded by his defense attorneys gave enough power to this argument that it was a strong factor in the 'acquittal' verdict returned by 12 jurors.

HISTORY NOW
But that has become history at least as far as law is concerned. What of the principals in the case?

What of Horace Van Horn, the man who was given a new lease on life by the jury Wednesday? Naturally enough he will go back to his farm work in Darby-two where he still has as many friends as he had before the early Sunday morning when William Lewis met his death. This is assured when the list of names of witnesses called by the defense is scanned. Practically every person of reputed character in the Darby vicinity was called by the defense to prove the truth, veracity and temperance of Mr. Van Horn. More than 30 persons, testified that Van Horn was one of the most upright men of their community.

He will go back to his work but he will never forget the trial which he just passed through. The sting of having killed a man will forever have burned itself into his mind. Will this have any effect on him as a man?

Then to go to the other side of the case.

WHAT OF MRS. LEWIS

What will become of Mrs. Mary Lewis, widow of the slain man? She is now residing in the Williamsport vicinity where she remained after her husband's death. Naturally she will remember the fatal night when standing in the woods at her home she saw an automobile circle in the adjoining rye field three times to take life of the person most dear to her in the world. What effect will the death and eventual trial have on the remainder of her life?

Then Walter Lewis, son of the deceased man, and the person whom the defense claimed was responsible for the whole affair. Will the death of his father have any effect on the events of the remainder of his life? The defense charged through the trial that it was enmity between the younger Lewis and Van Horn that led to the disaster.

Then the most pitiful personage connected with the entire case comes in—Mrs. Cynthia Van Horn, wife of Horace Van Horn, and sister of Mrs. Lewis, who became insane after the death of Mr. Lewis. She was taken to the Athens state hospital where she is now an inmate, brought about almost entirely by worry over the possible fate of her husband. What effect will the outcome of the acquittal have on her when she learns of it? Will her mind gradually come back to her until she has become normal again? Many believe it will. Worry over her husband's arrest caused her to become insane and joy over his release may return her mind to her.

Isn't a murder case a terrible thing?

FIRE SWEEPS LORAIN TODAY

Business Block In Ohio City Destroyed; Damage is Estimated $60,000.

LORAIN, O., March 12.—A spectacular fire raged through a business block in the downtown section of Lorain today, resulting in a damage estimated at more than $60,000.

Fire Chief David E. Hatt declared the fire was one of the most disastrous in the history of Lorain. Firemen battled the flames for nearly seven hours before getting them under control.

Twenty persons, residing in the second-floor of the fire-swept structure, were forced to flee to the street. All escaped uninjured.

A two-story building, located at 325-333 Broadway, the city's main thoroughfare, was burned to the ground. The structure had been a landmark for years.

The destroyed building was occupied by the Bretz Book and Music Store, the Burgett Electric Company and the Roma Restaurant. None of the equipment in any of the stores was saved.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

What's Delaying the Mayor?

Over a year has passed since Mayor Hedges made the statement that he would compel a shake-up in the Circleville police force. This statement was made only after The Circleville Herald pointed out the laxity of law enforcement in the city.

This shake-up was to be made as soon as the Civil Service Commission was reorganized and examinations held. The Commission has been reorganized, the examination has been held, and no doubt capable men are available to replace the members of the police force who, according to Mayor Hedges, will be asked to resign.

ASK REMOVAL OF NEW YORK MAYOR TODAY

Opposition to Jimmy Walker Grows When Churches Meet

PETITION GOVERNOR

Roosevelt Awaits Specific Charges to Act

NEW YORK, March 12.—Removal of Mayor James J. Walker will be asked and formal charges filed with Governor Roosevelt within two or three days it was announced today.

The city affairs committee of which John Haynes Holmes is chairman will take the step asking for an inquiry similar to that ordered in connection with charges against District Attorney Crain.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Churchmen and civic leaders were to meet in two separate conferences today to urge action by the Governor upon their demands for a city-wide investigation of municipal conditions.

At the same time, the first counter-attack upon the wave of public reform demanding removal from office of Mayor James J. Walker and District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain was reported in course of preparation in the form of a counter-demand to be made by Crain for the removal of Judge Samuel Seabury as the Governor's commissioner.

AWAITS CHARGE

Governor Roosevelt himself in Albany, was said authoritatively to be unwilling to proceed against Mayor Walker in the absence of specific charges, and will decline to act, it was said, unless such charges are forthcoming.

The mayor, on his way to California on a vacation ordered by his physician, characterized it as "remarkable" that, in 25 years of public service, "the first investigation of me should come while I am out of town."

Crain, it was learned, has asked Attorney Samuel Untermyer to represent him as defense counsel in the investigation by Seabury ordered by the governor.

Seven protestant denominations were to be represented at the churchmen's meeting today, called by the Greater New York Federation of Churches.

MANY DENOMINATIONS

Denominations, representatives of which were to be present, were the Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Lutheran and Dutch Reformed.

Congregational ministers, meeting Tuesday night, adopted a resolution urging the Federation to take action "in the name of the United Protestant forces of the city," and also urged co-operation upon the part of all religious forces, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, regardless of denomination or creed.

GIRL'S DEATH PROBE IS ON

Two Have Been Held For Questioning, One Freed; Hair is Thought Clue

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 2.—Police and criminologists searching for the slayer of Virginia Brooks, 10 years old, today pinned their hopes of solving the brutal murder on two strands of hair found clutched in the dead girl's hand.

The child's battered and dismembered body was found wrapped in a burlap bag on Camp Kearney mesa Tuesday, one month after she vanished on her way to school. Automobile tire tracks found near the body have failed to produce a tangible clue as to the slayer.

Two suspects were arrested and grilled and one of them, a chicken rancher, was ordered released when microscopic tests of strands of his hair proved to be of a different color and texture than those found with the girl's body.

The other suspect, D. J. Bryan, a youth said to have broken parole from a state institution after his arrest in connection with a girl case, was held pending a microscopic test of his hair.

Those Interested in Outcome of Trial Blame Fight for Lewis' Death

CHARGE IS PRAISED

Defense Attorneys Elated Over Outcome of Case

A marked sympathy shown early in the trial of Horace Van Horn, 55, who was acquitted on Wednesday afternoon of murder in the first degree of William Lewis, 58, his neighbor, was one of the chief causes for the acquittal it was the consensus of post-trial opinion Thursday when the liberty given Van Horn was one of the chief subjects for discussion in the city, on street corners and through each office of the courthouse. It was the belief of many that the terrific beating Van Horn took at the hands of Walter Lewis, son of the deceased man, most of which appeared to be unnecessary, caused sympathetic chord to be struck early in the trial which, it is thought, was maintained until the verdict was reached.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Others are of the opinion that Van Horn was guilty of manslaughter and that a first degree murder charge should not have been filed against him. The charge to the jury by Judge Frank Clevenger, although it did not state that the jurors should find Van Horn guilty or not guilty, slightly implied that manslaughter might be found. The charge to the jury was one of the finest heard here and Judge Clevenger was receiving flattering compliments from all sides Thursday.

Attorneys on both sides were pleased with the manner in which the barrister conducted his court.

From the start of the trial until its completion the defense stressed the point that Van Horn was badly beaten by Walter Lewis previous to William Lewis meeting his death. Attorney Snyder's opening statement made it known that "accidental death" would be the strong point of the defense but when the state builded a strong case against a possible accident finding, the defense changed its plan for Mr. Lewis' death on a concussion Van Horn suffered from the beating he took from Walter Lewis.

The defense furnished expert testimony, including that of Dr. G. W. Heffner who stated that a man who took the beating Van Horn took was not responsible for acts which he committed. Heffner stated that a slight concussion would make a man irresponsible.

The state placed a strong case against the accidental part of the altercation by the tracks of the automobile through the field and by the testimony of Mrs. Fletcher Graham who saw lights of an automobile circling in the field.

ATTORNEYS PLEASED

Attorneys I. F. Snyder and C. A. Leist, who obtained Van Horn's freedom, were very much elated over the outcome of the case. Snyder contended from the time he took the case until it was completed that Mr. Van Horn would not be found guilty because of the beating Walter Lewis admitted he administered to him. He blamed the entire affair on the younger Lewis whom he said was back of it all.

The prosecution E. L. Crist, prosecuting attorney, and Tom A. Renick, his assistant, said Thursday that they did the best they could and were of the opinion that Van Horn should have been found guilty of manslaughter.

There seems to be considerable complaint and dissatisfaction as to the unkempt and neglected condition of Mt. Pleasant cemetery. The writer has driven over a large portion of eastern, western, southern and central Ohio and has never yet seen a cemetery in such a condition. A lady who lives in a nearby city, whose parents are buried here was very much shocked when she visited their graves to find them so neglected, which is true of many others, who have friends buried there. There surely is sufficient money from the sale of lots and the income from the amounts bequeathed for the up-keep of family lots to hire a man to clean the cemetery once if not twice a year at least. Why not call a meeting of people in the community who are interested to meet with the trustees and revise plans by which the cemetery could have better care and more attention.

WALNUT-TWP.

"DRUMS OF DEATH" GIVEN

An outstanding play of the year has been given by the Walnut dramatic club. The play was a three-act mystery filled with horror, adventure and delight. The whole play was written because of a little, rather insignificant ring. The play was given to two splendid audiences. They were almost as alert as those who were acting the parts.

The stage was set in a ghostly mansion, the room being the best of the house. With negro servants creeping about in the dead of night, fake telegrams always coming up and persons of the house always disappearing, the scene was a perplexing one.

As was mentioned in the previous article, Mary Alice Scothorne was the feminine lead in the guise of Paula Bailey. Her acting was faultless. Glenn England took the part of Sheldon Harlow, property manager of the disappeared, Mr. Bailey. It was carried out wonderfully displaying real genius. These two had long and difficult parts so you can imagine what hours of study and work were required to present themselves in the manner that they did.

Newton Cooper, funny, witty, and clown-like country sheriff was taken by Walter Hittel. The audience always laughed when Cooper thrust his head into the room for the part was so excellently portrayed.

Esther Black was Celeste, a queer and weird servant of the household. Playing with her was Walter Mohart as Jules, Haitian servant. No one could have more perfectly fitted the parts than these two did. Always wondering what they meant to do next—they kept the audience in a turmoil.

Grace Teegardin portrayed Eugenia Bowles, a very proud and sedate old maid. She looked and acted the part to perfection.

Amelia Gillette was Martha Newton, modern and flippy young girl, never realizing danger until almost too late. She was the part in real! Her grandmother, Mrs. Gillette, was carried out to completeness by Mildred Reed.

Of course the play would not have been a play without a crook so Gordon Dunkel was cast as Dr. Cameron who forced his way into the confidences of the family, by way of gaining information. He was just plain good!

Esther Riegel who played as Mrs. Oakley, Mr. Bailey's housekeeper, has the dramatic ability of being able to feel as well as act her part.

Last but not at all least we have Mr. Drum to thank for the time, patience, capability and extreme interest which he put forth. His tireless efforts did much to make the play a success.

There seems to be considerable complaint and dissatisfaction as to the unkempt and neglected condition of Mt. Pleasant cemetery. The writer has driven over a large portion of eastern, western, southern and central Ohio and has never yet seen a cemetery in such a condition. A lady who lives in a nearby city, whose parents are buried here was very much shocked when she visited their graves to find them so neglected, which is true of many others, who have friends buried there. There surely is sufficient money from the sale of lots and the income from the amounts bequeathed for the up-keep of family lots to hire a man to clean the cemetery once if not twice a year at least. Why not call a meeting of people in the community who are interested to meet with the trustees and revise plans by which the cemetery could have better care and more attention.

Republican Old Guard to Remain Fess Says

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Challenged by the Democrats, bolted by the Progressives, and criticized by various other groups within and without the party, the harassed Republican leadership fell back today on that ancient Napoleonic maxim: "The old guard dies (maybe) but it never surrenders."

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, will remain as chairman of the Republican national committee, despite the opposition of Republican wets, who resent his radical dry activities, and his close affiliation with the anti-saloon league.

Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky, is to remain as executive director of party affairs, despite the general demand for his head for circulating Ku Klux Klan propaganda in the last campaign in an effort to defeat Senator George W. Norris in Nebraska.

No active branch is to be extended to the progressives, meeting here in frank revolt.

The present Republican leadership will "carry on" and shortly will begin an offensive in the form of a nation-wide publicity campaign to convince the people in general and the farmer in particular that the Hoover administration has piloted the country through an economic storm and is deserving of re-election.

That is the party attitude toward the progressive conference which assembled today, and that is the program for the future.

It bears the stamp of Mr. Hoover's endorsement, for it was announced after Senator Fess had been to the White House to get the presidential okay. There will be no deviation from the line, no palliatives offered the rebellious progressives in order to appease their opposition; instead there will be a vigorous publicity campaign on a national scale to "sell" the administration and its achievements to the country.

On the theory that the best defense is a vigorous attack, Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the senate, met the progressive challenge today with a challenge of his own. He challenged the party rebels in their conference here to answer a list of questions as to where they stood on various issues.

The veteran old guard leader, whose party service runs back to the days when he was Uncle Joe Cannon's whip in the house, compiled a list of "fourteen points" which he dared the party recalcitrants to answer. And he specified he wanted "explicit and unequivocal" answers.

These were the questions:

"1. Should the Eighteenth Amendment be repealed?"

"2. If not, should the government take over enforcement responsibility from the states?"

"3. Should Russia be recognized?"

"4. Should the government undertake ownership and operation of railroads?"

"5. Should the government take over and operate the electrical power business of the country?"

"6. Should the Constitution be amended to give congress the power to override decisions by the Supreme court?"

"7. Should the Constitution be amended to deprive the President of his veto power?"

"8. Should the tariff on farm products be reduced?"

"9. Should the farm board be abolished?"

"10. Should the country adopt the Dole system?"

"11. Should we place an embargo on the importation of oil?"

"12. Should we place a tariff on oil?"

"13. Should we liberalize our immigration laws?"

The Republican leadership, in the session of Congress just closed, virtually answered every one of Watson's questions with a positive "no" or its equivalent.

There are some of the questions that the Progressive leadership would answer "yes", although it is problematical whether the conferees will take any notice of what they regard as "publicity heckling" on the part of administration spokesmen.

In any event, the Watson questions and the attitude of Fess and Lucas, after conferring with the White House, indicate the determination of the party heads not to back up on the record of the administration, as established in the last congress, but to fight it out on that line all this summer and the next.

FOSTER RETRIAL NOW UNDERWAY

CLEVELAND.—Retrial of John R. Foster, one-time associate of John A. Du Bois, missing former Republican leader, on charges of defrauding the Continental Bank of $1,000, was underway in common pleas court here before Judge Walter McMahon.

Foster, a public accountant at the bank, was convicted as an agent of the institution but won a new trial when a reviewing court held that he could not be classed as the bank's agent. Otto J. Robles, former executive vice-president of the bank, now is serving a four-year term at Ohio penitentiary for complicity in the alleged issuance of a $1,000 fraudulent check to Foster.

In his opening statement to the jury, assistant county prosecutor, P. L. A. Lieghey charged that Foster and Robles cooperated in frauds against the bank totaling $57,000.

AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. NETS $43,345,370 DURING 1930

Net earnings of the American Tobacco Company for 1930, after providing for all expenses of management, depreciation and taxes, amounted to $43,345,370, according to the annual report which will be mailed to stockholders today. Taxes paid to the Federal Government alone were more than $150,000,000.

These earnings, the largest in the company's history, represent an increase of 43 per cent over the net earnings of 1929 and amounted to $8.56 per share in 1930 as against $5.76 per share in 1929.

The increase in net earnings last year over the preceding year, was $13,116,165. This was more than twice the combined increase in earnings of the Company's three principal competitors.

Dividends paid to stockholders on the common and common E stock established a new high record of $29,293,983. In addition, dividends of $3,161,982 were paid on the preferred stock.

With the notice of the annual meeting on April 1st, there is being mailed to stockholders today a complete statement as to what has been done in carrying out the stockholders' authorization given at their special meeting of July 28, 1930, for the sale of common B stock to employees.

In a letter to the stockholders accompanying the annual report, George W. Hill, President, says:

"You will be interested to compare these earnings of $43,345,370 with the earnings of the Company in 1911, eleven months of which passed before the numerous subsidiaries (now manufacturing the most important competitive brands) were separated from the parent Company in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States. In that year the earnings of the Company for its preferred and Common Stock, including eleven months' earnings from the properties separated by the Supreme Court, were $30,633,314.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12.—With only one signature remaining to be placed as the party of the first part on a "Columbus Red Birds" contrary, Manager Leibold had the knife and fork privileges at the Thelma Hotel extended to 32 Tuesday when the infielders and outfielders arrived to start their conditioning.

WOODCOCK SEEKS PUBLIC REACTION

WASHINGTON.—A new effort on the part of Prohibition Director Amos W. Woodcock to obtain public reaction to enforcement was launched today.

All administrators and deputies were asked to clip from newspapers articles relating to enforcement operations and those reflecting public opinion in all parts of the country.

These clippings will be sent to Washington and studied by Woodcock and his aides.

Sometime ago a questionnaire was sent out to newspapers asking their position on prohibition enforcement. Such a furore was generated in official circles here the questionnaire was withdrawn.

Since that time no effort has been made by the federal bureau to seek public reaction to prohibition enforcement.

It was the belief of prohibition officials that public opinion in various parts of the country might be obtained, and that this would be of value in distributing the prohibition forces.

"The history of the tobacco business during the past generation shows a constantly growing tendency toward cigarettes. The recognition of this fact has been a broad decisive policy in the success of the present administration of your Company."

It is pointed out that in 1926, the year Mr. Hill became President, the Company produced only 20.14 per cent of all the cigarettes made in the United States. During the last five years, notwithstanding unusually active competition, the Company's percentage of the total cigarette business in the United States has steadily increased to 38.10 per cent of the total in 1930.

Actual sales of Lucky Strike cigarettes, the Company's principal brand, increased 6,219,000,000 in 1930 as compared with 1929. This was a greater increase by more than 5,500,000,000 cigarettes than all the cigarettes produced in the United States combined.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Hamilton & Ryan's or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.—Adv.

Laws and Geography

MORALITY is a matter of geography, but people usually accept that axiom as having reference to climate. Sometimes, however, it seems that regions identical as regards soil and climate may be sharply dissimilar in point of morals.

For instance, in some Southern states it is unlawful to play golf on the Sabbath and the law is strictly enforced, while there is no legal penalty inflicted on those who take part in lynchings. And in a neighboring state with the same climate it is lawful to play golf on Sunday but lynchings are forbidden and lynchings are punished.

This is, perhaps, an extreme case, but it illustrates the point.
Two other states divided by the Mason and Dixon line afford another interesting illustration. In one betting on horse races is legal while in the other it is illegal, but thousands of followers of the horses in the "moral" state support the schools of the "immoral" state by patronizing its racetracks which are taxed for school purposes.

The people of states which outlaw tobacco, hasty marriages and divorce cross the line into less
"moral" territory for these commodities. And the principal argument against "home rule" as a substitute for national prohibition is that the "dry" state will be unable to keep its citizens from obtaining next door to drink or to obtain liquor supplies to smuggle home.

Among the conclusions that may be drawn from this picture of inconsistency and hypocrisy are:
A state's morals as exemplified by laws are a mixture of economic necessity, political expediency and popular acquiescence.

Baruch's Plan

PROMPTED to speak, no doubt,
by the agitation since the World War for the mobilization of capital, labor and all other national resources in time of war in the manner that fighters are drafted, Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the War Industries Board during the war, is advocating a new and novel scheme for carrying this into effect.

Not convinced of the feasibility of the capital and labor "draft", he suggests to the war policies commission that the government control all prices when the country is in a state of war, that there may be no profiteering either in dealing with the government or with the people.

In brief, he proposes to "freeze"
the whole price structure "as it existed on some antecedent date near to the declaration of war," the executive accomplishing this by proclamation.

While the plan seems plausible enough, it is not without its weak points. It would afford many opportunities for corruption. It would put an intense strain upon administrative control, and put the patriotism of finance, industry and labor to a severe test. Cynicism does not inspire the thought that the tremendous driving power of the country in the last war was partly due to tremendous war profits and high wages.

But some way to end war profits should be found, both because the system is unfair to the man at the front and because it makes dollar diplomacy arrogant and militaristic.

Congress and the Navy

CHAIRMAN Hale, of the senate naval affairs committee, is optimistic as to the future of the American navy and as to the attitude of the seventy-second congress toward naval construction.

Big-navy advocates are still severely criticizing congress for failing to authorize the navy department's building program and to appropriate sufficient funds to carry it out. They consider the program
"too modest" but congress thought otherwise.

The navy came out of the closing session of the seventy-first congress with an appropriation of $10,000,000 for destroyers and another $10,000,000 for capitalship modernization.

It looks to the big-navy people
as though the traditional neglect of the navy were still in full force and effect in spite of the London naval conference and the arrangements made there for non-competitive building to parity with Great Britain and an adjusted superiority to Japan.

There are legacies and Leggesacies.
Like the poor, Muscle Shoals is always with us.

It isn't hard to be content with one's lot if it is a lot.

RELIEF FOR WORRIED HOST

"FOREST LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER XLIV MARRIED? Nancy was the first to grasp it. "Married?"
Oh Lou... so soon?"

"Thursday... why Lou... that's wonderful!" Nancy came alive. The old light came back to her eyes, the color of her cheeks.
At last something was happening,
something nice.

"To... to whom, why I ask?"
Mama mouthed the words with elaborate sarcasm. Her little hands stirred in her lap. Her head began to shake. She looked appealingly at papa, but he saw only Louise.

"Louise," he faltered, "you, you aren't making a mistake? Because of my... my..." He couldn't go on. He pointed at his useless legs, wrapped in the wheel chair.
"Peter!" mama shrieked. "I won't have you taking that attitude! Do you hear me? I won't have it!" Her faded eyes had brightened, she breathed deeply, her nostrils dilated. She had caught her husband's thought...

Oliver Lachman... Louise was going to marry him after all...
Pat even as she rejoiced, she waited. For Louise had not told her. She had kept it a secret from her own mother.

Mother's Plans.

"There's no use making a fuss," she said simply. "Mat and I are going to be married Thursday, that's all."

"Mat! Mat Tully!" mama echoed staring as if the possibility had never entered her head.
Nancy moved toward her sister belligerently. "Don't you listen to mama!" she cried. "Don't you listen!"

And through it mama went right on. "Mat Tully! That... that whippersnapper. That cheap ten-cent scientist! Oh, what a fool you are. Oh, to think you'd do this, after all we've done for you, all I sacrificed! Well, I won't permit it, that's all. I won't have it! Do you hear me?"

"Don't LISTEN to her, Lou.
Don't let mama spoil your life!
Don't you do it!"

And papa, forgetting himself and his infirmity in beholding Kitty's frenzy, tried to make peace amongst his women folk, as he had in the old days when the girls were younger and Kitty thought their deaths unworthy.

"Why," he asked anxiously, try to
"sah" Kitty at the same time
"couldn't you put it off a week or two, dear? You don't want to worry your mother, do you?"

Louise smiled tearfully. She said, in a voice that shook a little in spite of all her effort to keep it steady, "I don't want to worry anybody, but I can't help it. It must go home because my father is so ill and there's some business.
They've sent for him. He wants me to go, too."

"Kansas City?" Mama spat it out. "Nancy wastes her time on Giles Flat, and now it's you and Kansas City. Oh, why, why do you both take up with such COMMON people!" The tears rolled unchecked over her withered cheeks, down her best silk blouse. She wasn't her hands and moaned, but no body listened. They had all crowded around Louise asking questions, explaining, even Peter and forgot her. "Get that time table out of my overcoat pocket, will you, Nancy?" He adjusted his glasses. "I want to see what time you go through Ogden. I had quite a stopover there, when I went East in 1914!"

Three days! So much can happen in three days. Mat seemed like one of the family already. He sat by papa's wheel chair and listened while papa told him how many home runs Babe Ruth made last year, and who'd be the next heavyweight champion, and why?

Louise told no one of her plans, but everyone seemed to know about them. The telephone rang incessantly. May Belle, Mrs.
Craig, Helen Heffinger. The sorarity girls.

"My dear, isn't it WONDER-FUL! But how Sudden!"
"You sly thing... who'd ever think that you and Mat Tully—" Louise answered in a sort of daze. She sat beside her unpacked trunk and let Nancy pack it. She wandered around the house, opening closet doors, poking into old boxes marked "Silk Pies" and "L's dolls."

"My lord, you're hopeless," Nancy giggled, giving her a good natured push. She herself was flaming with excitement. Living over her own adventure. Tying ribbons with tender fingers.
Laughing at the impossibility of ever finishing all there was to do.
Wiping her eyes in dark corners where she could see have had Lou's courage.

Lou had faced the family.
Stuck to her guns. Never faltered.
"I wish I had your nerve!" she told her at last. "Lord, I never thought you'd have the courage to break the news and go on with it as you have, I used to think I was the one with nerve... but I never even knew what it meant."

"It doesn't take courage to marry the man you love."
"N—no. But to stick it out—"
"But I love Mat. I couldn't do anything else."

Nancy fixed large, disillusioned eyes on her sister. "That's the joke, I guess, she said bitterly. "I never really knew you... you... you're magnificent! I'm the—the weak sister. Say, I'd have married old Lachman—"

"Nancy!"

"The Easiest Way."
"Oh, yes, I would, just to be agreeable. And then murdered him, feeling sorry for myself a couple of days later... honest!"

"Oh, you crazy baby!" Louise's warm arms were around her little sister, holding her close. They both laughed, finding relief in levity, fearing they had betrayed too much, Lou of the love that was too sacred to share, even with Nancy, Nancy of secret, dark excitement that was consuming her, making the nights wakeful, the days leaden, slow with waiting.

"Well, I didn't worry about papa. I knew he'd rather like it," Lou said, eager to change the subject. "But I was rather upset about mama. I was afraid for a minute that she'd have a stroke too."

"Oh, nonsense," Nancy murmured easily. "She's beginning to enjoy it already!"

And Nancy was right. Mama had pulled herself together and attempted to manage the busy wedding. "If you insist on going on with this crazy notion, you'll have to wake up and get some clothes!"
she told the prospective bride severely. "We can't have you going to these strange people looking like a pauper... not that they're the kind to know quality

... still..."

Aunt Ellie, still chained to her chair by the broken hip that would never mend, listened to mama's hastily gabbled account, and Louise's sketchy explanation, and insisted upon seeing the young man for herself. She put on her best maroon quilted robe for the occasion and quipped her hair.

"There are a few things I'm going to tell him for his own good,"
she told the panic-stricken Lou.
"Young men don't know how to take care of a wife!"

"Aunt Ellie—please! Aunt Ellie,
if I BEG you not to say anything to Mat—"

Called To Account.
She wouldn't promise, but when the reluctant boy was presented Lou began to breathe easier. Family history, the "crick" in her leg and the difficulty of finding a good butcher nowadays more than filled her hour.

They were all ready to go when she suddenly remembered she had not really begun. She lifted one fat finger.

"Wait a minute," she said sternly.
"Wait a MINUTE, young man. I'm practically the head of this family, what with the poor girl's father having a stroke, and her mother running bills I'll have to pay. Not that I'd mind buying a trousseau if I could see my way clear to stop there. But—"

"Aunt Ellie—oh, please, Mat—
you mustn't mind! Aunt Ellie, don't you see that Mat and I—"

"Poppycock!" snorted Aunt Ellie, having the best time she had for years. "Poppycock nonsense! You're a loveless fool, and I'm surprised at you. I thought you had more sense, Louise. Peebles Hollenbeck! Face the facts!
The Parkhurst Bank isn't going to pay your father much longer for sitting in a wheelchair. Who's going to take care of your mother and sister, hey? Who's going to take care of YOU? Young man, what are you getting married on?
What are you going to eat? Love and kisses!"

Matthew Tully, uninvited, helped himself to a chocolate from the bonbon dish at Aunt Ellie's side and grinned. When he laughed his thin, dark face was lined with dozens of little wrinkles, and his deepest eyes were dark, fringed slits of light. "That's a fair question," he said, with his mouth full of chocolate marshmallow.

He swept a careless arm in Lou's direction. "But one that the most interested party has never taken the trouble to ask."

Lou tried to equal his smiling bravado, but she couldn't. She could only hang her head and blush for Aunt Ellie.

"Then she's a fool," Aunt Ellie retorted tartly, moving the candies a little farther away.

Not the least abashed, Mat reached over and took another.
Lou, diverted in her misery, wondered why she had ever thought him sly.

"Maybe that's why I'm so fond of her," he suggested amiably.

But Aunt Ellie was not to be side-tracked. "Exactly how much have you got saved up?" She demanded angrily.

"Nothing."

"Not a red cent. But I have a couple of million my mother left me, and my father wants to turn over a little more to me. That's why we're hurrying the wedding, and going on to Kansas City Thursday. Do you think we'll be able to manage?"

Freakish Cures for Hiccough Are Numerous

Some of Them Date Back to the Ancient Greeks, but Don't Place Too Much Faith in Them.

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D., U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

AT some time or other all of us have suffered from hic-coughing. Sometimes it is most annoying and difficult to control. An occasional person seems to be extremely susceptible to this symptom
while a few are rarely if ever sufferers from
it. I have seen cases of hic-cough which have baffled even the most expert physicians.

No doubt you have recently read in the newspapers
about a young girl who suffered recurrent attacks for more than a year. This girl lived in Detroit and during her illness had advice from more than 3,000 physicians who were in Detroit attending a medical convention in spite of this accumulated experience little by way of aid could be offered. The poor child died.

Hiccough is an affection which may arise from many things. It may follow irritation of the nerves supplying the diaphragm, the breathing muscle. It may be caused from excitement, irritation usually after heavy meal. It is met in append-icitis and as a complication in severe forms of typhoid fever. It is oc-asionally encountered in certain nerve disorders, such as hysteria, epilepsy and shock and in tumors of the brain.

The treatment depends upon the cause of the disorder. If due to stomach or intestinal disturbance
the irritating matter must be removed. This is best accomplished by sucking out the stomach, or by intestinal flushings using enemata or cathartics.

Where the affection comes on after meals, it may be due to indigestion. Then a change in diet and restriction of food are usually sufficient.

It is interesting to note that the condition was aptly described by the ancient Greeks. Aristophanes, who had hiccough from eating too much was told to hold his breath or to suckle with a little water. If the cure "tickles your nose with something and sneeze; and if you sneeze once or twice, even the most violent hiccough is sure to go." We might try these advice of other days.

This condition usually brings forth a flood of "sure cures," ranging from sudden fright to liberal doses of snuff, salt or sugar. Holding the breath in the mouth is frequently suggested, as are other methods as old as the Greeks. At times these give relief and at other times they fail.

Never allow the hiccup to persist without consulting a physician. Certain complications can be avoided by early attention.

Answers to Health Queries

M. B. Q.—What can be done for a skin condition known as "lupus"?
Is there a definite cure?

A.—This disturbance should have proper medical attention and advice.
Proper treatment should give increased comfort. The general health is a factor in such treatment.

J. S. C. Q.—What will remove surplus fat on the arms?

A.—Exercise and proper attention to the diet should be helpful under the circumstances. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

C. C. B. Q.—What causes gray hair on my head? I am only 19 years old.

A.—The cause may be due to shock, severe injury, or it may be hereditary.

Pantages Named In Girl Bazaar

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 11—Alexander Pantages, millionaire theatre magnate who with four others was named in complaints charging statutory offenses in connection with the Los Angeles "Girl Bazaar," expose, was expected to surrender to local authorities today.

Located in Agua Caliente, Mex., 19 miles south of here, Pantages said he knew nothing of the case and promised to appear as soon as he was wanted.

Others named in the complaints issued late yesterday by District Attorney Thomas Whelan were Jesse Shreve, prominent business man of San Diego; John P. Mills, real estate broker; William Jobelmann, a publicity man who once worked for the Pantages interests, and Olive Clark Day of Los Angeles, a former film actress.

Shreve surrendered and was released on $25,000 bail.

ORDER ARREST

The others, with the exception of Mills, have been ordered arrested on sight, according to Prosecutor Whelan. Mills was arrested and released on bonds in Los Angeles.

The charges grew out of disclosures in the records of the Hollywood high school girl love syndicate which authorities charge was operated by Olive Clark Day and Jobelmann.

The specific charges are that Alice Blake, 16 year old Hollywood girl, and Helen Livingston, 19, of Long Beach, Cal., were brought to this city for immoral purposes. The charges state that the girls became the companions of Pantages and Shreve at a hotel here.

Pantages gained his release from jail recently after posting bonds of $100,000 pending decision on a request for appeal from his conviction and sentence of one to 50 years on charges of criminally assaulting Eunice Pringle, young dancer.

DELIVERED GIRLS

District Attorney Whelan revealed that he had spent the earlier part of the week in conference with district Attorney Byron Fitts in Los Angeles. He said the two prosecutors had supplemented each other's information as to the alleged "selling" and delivering of Hawks Nominated Most Valuable Airman In U.S.

NEW YORK.—Morris Markey, veteran aviation writer, who covered the Lindbergh and Byrd transatlantic flights and knows every important air man or woman in the country nominates Frank M. Hawks, as "the most valuable person in aviation."

The nomination is based on the fact that "only rarely does Hawks fly for the sake of flying."

"When he spun across the continent in twelve hours he gave us a glimpse of something that all the Lindberghs on earth have never opened up: a glimpse of commercial paper moving from the outposts of the nation into the banking centers at speeds that mean millions of dollars in interest; a glimpse of tomorrow's usefulness of the airplane," Markey writes in an article for the Elks Magazine.

"When he avoids racing meets—the dangers and the futility of swift flying on short courses with many pylons to be turned at perilous angles—he warns us that such stuff is worthless. When he cruises normally at 180 miles an hour without pressing his engine, merely to get from one place to another place, he opens up the real usefulness of airplanes."

VOCATION STUDENTS WANT SCHOLARSHIP

Outstanding high school vocational agriculture students in Ohio will be awarded a $100 scholarship and five educational trips to the national meeting of the Future Farmers of America, which will be held next November in Kansas City, according to information just released by Ray Fife, State Supervisor of Agricultural Education of the Ohio State Department of Education.

The winner of the educational scholarship, which will be awarded next fall by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to a student in one of the 56 counties served by this railroad, will have the alternative of applying the scholarship to defraying tuition costs in any creditable college or university which he may elect, or to defraying the cost of an educational trip.

The five educational trips to the National Future Farmers Meeting are offered by the Wabash Railroad to outstanding agriculture students in territory served by this road.

Awards will be based on all-around ability and achievement. Ability to farm as demonstrated by successful home project work which is carried out under the supervision of the agriculture teacher will be recognized, as well as ability in the class room. Ability to work with others, and qualities of leadership will also be given consideration in scoring contestants.

STATUS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN'S AID

In the age of mass production and distribution it is seldom that any organization as complex as the State of Ohio can reach each individual citizen or child. The 89th General Assembly appropriated $50,000 for the relief of school children in Ohio, with the provision that it be administered on the basis of need in each individual case. This assignment was given to Dr. J. L. Clifton, Director of Education, who could reach each child through the Superintendents of schools and the teachers. The superintendents, teachers, and attendance officers investigated the case of each child that required aid in order to attend school.

The appropriation of $50,000 meant approximately four cents per child in Ohio. With this in view, it was necessary to use every possible agency for relief and confine the school distribution to shoes, clothing, books, and some medical attention.

With the whole-hearted support of the school men and women of Ohio, Dr. J. L. Clifton has been able to send aid to school children in forty counties, nine cities, and ten exempted villages to date. Within the counties, cities, and exempted villages, 391 separate school districts have received aid for the children. There has been 38,314 school children aided in some way. There has been purchased in the communities with state funds 16,363 pairs of shoes. Clothes such as overalls, dress material, underwear and stockings, to the extent of $12,414. There remains in the fund $8,254.17 which is being used to help in cases where the need has arisen since the first distribution.

Ringling Buys Opposition Has Circus World Alone

NEW YORK.—The circus will soon be coming to town and when it does the crabbed will say, "It's the same old show." But it isn't. This year, especially there's a big change, for "opposition" is gone. John Ringling, owner of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey, has bought up the six or seven other shows that competed with him—such as Sells-Floto, John Robinson and Hagenbeck-Wallace. As boss of the whole circus industry, Ringling is in position to put an end to the colorful warfare that has existed between circus outfits ever since they started thrilling the country with their death-defying acrobats, their strange beasts and their world's greatest parades.

The warfare between circuses has been bloody in recent years. Courtney Ryley Cooper says in an article in the current issue of The Elks Magazine, but there was a time when it was pretty hard-boiled.

One of the best scraps was between the Barnum and Forepaugh outfits. It began in 1880, when they crossed territory, each claiming to be better than the other, and soon it degenerated into a name-calling contest between the two owners.

"When he avoids racing meets—the dangers and the futility of swift flying on short courses with many pylons to be turned at perilous angles—he warns us that such stuff is worthless. When he cruises normally at 180 miles an hour without pressing his engine, merely to get from one place to another place, he opens up the real usefulness of airplanes."

AVIATION'S BENEFIT

"For the airplane can do only one thing for us. You will be tired of its thrills after your second flight, and you will be weary of the vast stretches of scenery after your fifth. But you will never grow bored at the prospect of moving from Chicago to New York in four hours and a half. Hawks does that twice a month, and it isn't worth putting in the newspapers."

Since February, 1920, Hawks has broken about one aviation record a week, most of them speed records between cities. He has done this in the course of his flying on business for a commercial company of which he is an executive.

His New York office is the office of a business man. The air is his business man method of getting about in a hurry.

Hollywood school girls and movie-struck young women as week-end hotel companions of wealthy men in San Diego.

Fees of $200 and more were paid to the love syndicate by the men for the companionship of the young girls, according to asserted admissions made to authorities by Miss Day before her release on bonds and sudden disappearance last week. Of this sum the girls were given less than $25 each, it was reported.

Miss Blake and Miss Livingston were in technical custody at the Los Angeles district attorney's office as were Clarice Tauber, 18, and Helen Scott, 15. Girls known as Patsy Fox, and others are under investigation or are being sought, according to authorities.

William I. Gilbert, Los Angeles attorney representing the wealthy theatre magnate, was on his way here today with $50,000 in securities to place as bonds for Pantages. Pantages is said to have arranged to surrender here when Gilbert arrives.

"It is only a frameup to embarrass me during the last stages of my appeal to the supreme court," Pantages told International News Service.

"I have been at Agua Caliente for several weeks, trying to recover my health," he explained.

Pantages in mentioning his appeal now pending referred to his conviction by a Los Angeles jury in 1929, on charges of criminal assault preferred by Eunice Pringle, then 17 years old. Pantages was sentenced from one to fifty years in San Quentin but appealed and secured an appellate court order for a new trial. The Los Angeles authorities then appealed for a rehearing of Pantages' conviction, and this awaits supreme court action.

Pantages' denials were supported by those of his wife, Mrs. Lois Pantages, who is with him at Agua Caliente.

In the first complaint Pantages is charged with conspiring to violate the Juvenile act and contributing to the delinquency of Lydia Nitto, alias Alice Blake.

The second complaint accused Mills, Shreve, Miss Day and Jobelmann on contributing to the delinquency of Helen Livingston and also charged with conspiracy to violate the Juvenile act.

DIRECTORY OF SCHOOLS OUT

Today the State Department of Education released the annual high school directory. In this directory, edited by Dr. T. Howard Winters, are given the office personnel of the State Department, and all the superintendents, supervisors and special teachers in the high schools of Ohio.

Dr. Winters points out that there are fifty fewer public high schools in Ohio today than there were two years ago, but he further shows that the high school enrollment is 54,722 more than it was last year. The present enrollment is 388,657. Not only are listed the principals, the enrollment and teachers in the public high schools, but similar data are given for the non-public high schools of which there are 137 accredited by the State Department of Education.

Mrs. Minnie Probandt, who died at San Antonio, Tex., recently, willed her body to science that through the autopsy surgeons might find means to relieve the sufferings of others.

BATTLES AT BILLBOARDS

"They bought up newspapers in which to word their thoughts," says Cooper. "There were not enough billboards, so they built miles of them, slathering them with uncomplimentary remarks. Whereupon the opposing forces would wait until night, and cover the opposing epithets with outbursts of their own."

"The Forepaugh crew would cover the Barnum paper, the Barnum outfit would likewise cover the Forepaugh offering and thus matters would continue until the posters actually fell from the billboards from the sheer weight of successive layers. Following which there would generally be a fight, with pastebrushes and buckets as articles of war."

Finally, the showmen learned that when they called one another thieves and kidnapers, the public believed them, and that hurt business. So, in recent years, the war against the opposition has been held in private. Now, with Ringling boss, it's over.

It can always be said of the woman who marries a man to reform him that she selected her own vocation in life.

Trade Improved Robin's Outlook

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 12.—With replacement made at several base and in left field the Brooklyn Robins will come up to scratch this season one of the strongest clubs ever to represent Florida.

The trade at the close of last season which made Robins of Fresno Thompson and Lefty O'Doul and sent Clise Dudley, Jim Elliott and Hal Lee to the Phillies, has more than satisfactorily plugged the two outstanding Robin weaknesses, which broke their 1930 pennant drive.

Fresno, fast and spry, a sure fielder and a potential 300 hit-dovetail in perfectly alongside the brilliant Glen Wright in the play around second base. Fresno can go to his right or left with equal facility, has perfect throwing control and while not as powerful at the bat, is a big fielding improvement over Jake Flowers, the Keystone custodian of 1930.

O'Doul's record speaks for itself. The black-haired Irishman batted .383 last year after leading the league with 398 in 1929. He brings enough batting strength to the lineup to condone for occasional lapses in the outfield.

For the first time in fully a score of years, Manager Wilbert Robinson brought his flock to the southland with his 1931 lineup definitely decided on. With an outfielder having a batting average of .370 and an infield listed with a .310 average, and a pitching staff needing only another southpaw, the regular Robin battle line was a simple matter for the portly Brooklyn leader.

Del Bissonette, fifteen pounds heavier and completely recovered from the mastoid affliction of last season, will be at first. Thompson will get the call at second, Walcy Gilbert at third and Wright at shortstop.

The outfielder, a real nightmare and headache to other pitchers in hander outfielder and Bob Reis, an infielder, are some of the other promising rookies.

With such reserve strength as James Flowers, Rube Bressler, Harvey Hendrick, Gordon Shaw, Johnny Warner and Mickey Kinn, the 1930 holdovers, the chances of the Robins are none too encouraging, although Uncle Robbie may look with favor on either Rosenthal or Howell to balance the left-handers complex of his outfield.

Vance, Babe Herman and Harry Hendrick are still unsigned and officially listed as holdouts although they are on the ground and working out. However, their salary tangle is expected to be ironed out within the next few weeks.

PURDY POPULAR IN BIRD'S CAMP

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12.—Hail the King.

Long live King P. D.

In case you wonder what all the shouting is about, it is all because of the popularity of P. D. Purdy, the little outfielder of the Columbus Red Birds.

Having been elected "King of the March Festival" held here last year while Columbus Club was in training here, Purdy came back early this winter to play golf and incidentally renew his social program.

So it seems that Purdy is in line to sit on the throne again this Spring. Purdy, who is dubbed "God's gift to women," by the other players is already being boosted as the king of the festival and his election seems certain.

There's a little matter of votes cast for the candidates, having something to do with the right of succession, but Purdy has the ball players and most of the women working for him.

"I'll win in a walk," declared Purdy, who cannot be said to be suffering from an inferiority complex regardless of what else he may be accused of.

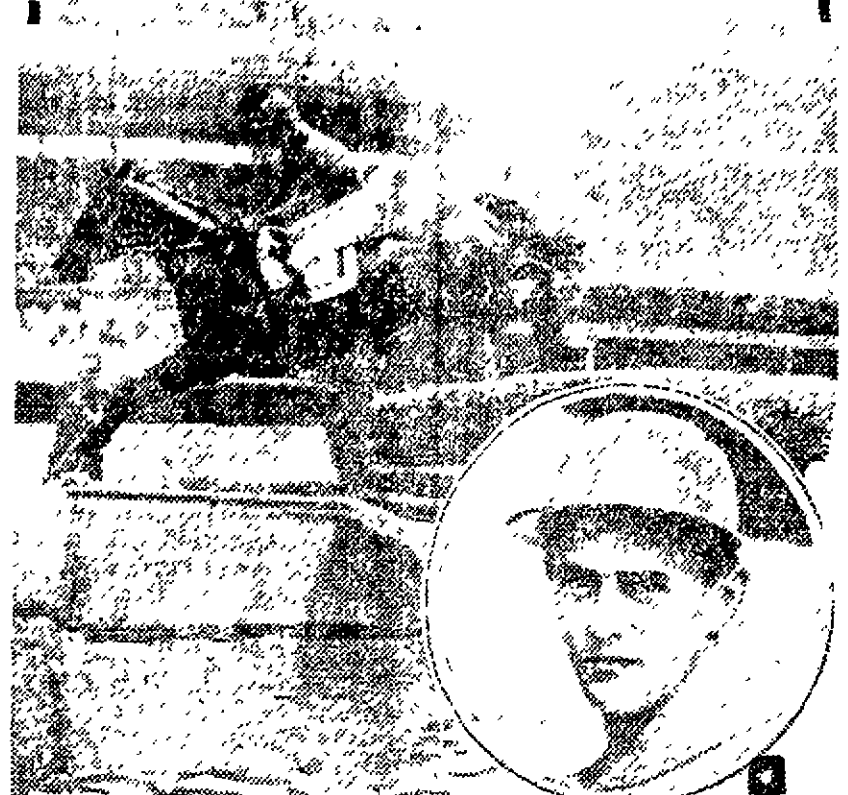

Incidentally the little infielder, formerly with the Cincinnati Reds, claims he's on his way back to the big show and has served warning that he expects to hit .350 this season.

DAYTON BARBER IS FOUND SLAIN

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Two theories—suicide and an attack by robbers—were investigated by authorities here today in the death of Anton T. Barber, 52, who was found in an unconscious condition in the basement of his barber shop with a bullet wound in his temple.

Police at first believed the man to be a victim of self-destruction. He had been in financial difficulties recently, it was learned. The possibility that he was slain by robbers, however, was given credence in the fact that the barber shop was in a state of disorder, chairs having been upset, and bottles, combs and scissors having been knocked from shelves.

Why Wake Up Nights?

Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Get a 25c test box of 5 grain Buken tablets, the bladder physic, from any drug store. After four days if you are not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. Buken, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., works pleasantly and effectively on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Sold at Hamilton & Ryan Drug Store—Adv.

NEW YORK.—The Anderson plan of liquor control, as embodied in the Wickersham report, will be the subject of a radio debate between representatives of Harvard University and the University of Chicago, from 4 to 5 p. m. (EST.) March 14.

HOLDOUTS ARE NOW REDUCED

Carl Reynolds of White Sox Signs Contract; Bill Terry Expected To Sign.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The holdout list of big league ballplayers was reduced to thirteen today as the result of the action of outfielder Carl Reynolds in coming to terms with the Chicago White Sox late yesterday.

The "unlucky thirteen" are: Bill Terry, Giants; Dazzy Vance and Babe Herman, Brooklyn; Chuck Klein, Phillies; Chick Hafey and Frank Frisch, Cardinals; Larry French, Pittsburgh; Ray Collins and Lu Blue, Browns; Eddie Morgan, Cleveland; Al Simmons, Athletics; and Jimmy Ford and Chuck Dressen, Cincinnati.

All of these unsigned players cannot strictly be called holdouts, however. Frisch usually does not sign until he reports at training camp. Simmons, who is working out at Hot Springs, also is generally late in coming to terms and has stated he anticipates no difficulty in arriving at an agreement with Connie Mack.

Considerable hullabaloo is being raised about Vance and Herman, but you can bet all the oolong in Hong Kong that this pair will be in the fold before they pay many more dinner checks with their own currency. They always have signed and they always will. Herman's chief lament, in fact, is that he wants the club to pay a dentist's bill amounting to a couple of centuries.

Vance wants $25,000, or $2,500 more than the club has offered. The officials feel that this pair should not receive salaries which would dwarf those of Lefty O'Doul, Glenn Wright, Johnny Frederick and other stars of the team.

Morgan, who married recently, is determined to quit the game but the Cleveland infield will not be crippled because Lou Fonseca, once the league's leading hitter, is playing a stellar game at first base.

Ford and Dressen are not particularly important to the Reds, because Dan Howley is building a young team at Cincinnati. But the services of Klein, Hafey, French and Collins are highly valuable to their respective clubs. It is not known here just how serious these three cases are. Hafey wants $15,000 and Klein $18,000, which in each case is about $3,000 more than they have been offered.

Terry is the most important holdout of the lot, as his loss would wreck the Giants unless another A-1 first baseman were secured in a trade for him. But Memphis Bill indicated the other day that he was weakening badly when he reduced his demand from $30,000 to $25,000, which is $2,500 more than the club's final offer.

The lure of the game is growing greater with each passing day, and it would not be surprising to see the big first baseman crack under the strain at any moment.

BROWNING BEATS CANADIAN FLASH

COLUMBUS, March 12.—Big Jim Browning was hailed today as the first wrestler to take a decision in Columbus from the Canadian whirlwind, Al Baffert.

After losing the first fall in 52 minutes because he could not break a short arm scissors grip, the giant Missourian clamped down on Baffert with a body scissors which brought results in 31 minutes.

The final stanza found both men ripping into each other in a cyclone of headlocks, scissors and wristlocks. Tactics which Baffert said were unnecessarily rough a kick to the jaw, felled the Frenchman after eight minutes and Browning pinned the Canadian grappler for the decision.

Trade Improved Robin's Outlook

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 12.—With replacement made at second base and in left field, the Brooklyn Robins will come up to scratch this season one of the strongest clubs ever to represent Flatbush.

The trade at the close of last season which made Robins of Fresno Thompson and Lefty O'Doul and sent Clise Dudley, Jim Elliott and Hal Lee to the Phillies has more than satisfactorily plugged the two outstanding Robin weak spots, which broke their 1930 pennant drive.

Fresco, fast and spry, a sure fielder and a potential .300 hitter dovetails in perfectly alongside the brilliant Glen Wright in the play around second base. Fresco can go to his right or left with equal facility, has perfect throwing control and while not as powerful at the bat, is a big fielding improvement over Jake Flowers, the Keystone custodian of 1930.

O'Doul's record speaks for itself. The black-haired Irishman batted .383 last year after leading the league with .398 in 1929. He brings enough batting strength to the lineup to condone for occasional lapses in the outfield.

For the first time in fully a score of years, Manager Wilbert Robinson brought his flock to the southland with his 1931 lineup definitely decided on. With an outfielder having a batting average of .370 and an infield listed with a .310 average, and a pitching staff needing only another southpaw, the regular Robin battle line was a simple matter for the portly Brooklyn leader.

Del Bissonette, fifteen pounds heavier and completely recovered from the mastoid affliction of last season, will be at first, Thompson will get the call at second, Wally Gilbert at third and Wright at shortstop.

A promising group of youngsters has been recruited by Brooklyn scouts and with last season's material still available, good reserve strength can be marshaled by Uncle Robbie. The most promising of the new comers is Ernest Lombardi, a catcher, purchased last season from the new Oakland club of the coast league. Lombardi hit .370 and had a fielding average of .975 last season. He is expected to help the spectacular Al Lopez carry the catching burden this season.

Shaute's arm went dead in 1928 but Robbie is bringing him along slowly and may make a winner of him.

The Brooklyn boss has performed pitching miracles with has-beens in other years, notably Jack Combs and Rube Marguard.

Watson Clark, who won 13 and lost 13 last season, and Freddy Heimach, former Yankee, are the only two left handers in the pitching lists. Great doings are expected from Dazzy Vance, who although still unsigned, reported weeks in advance of his usual reporting time to work himself in shape.

Ray Moss, recovering from the neuritis, which retarded him last season, has had a boiling out siege at Hot Springs and figures to be one of the most effective of the moundmen.

Among the newcomers, Clyde Day, a righthander from Kansas City and Phil Gullivan, Bill Greene and Larry Mattingly, righthanders from Macon, appear the best prospects. Gullivan won 20 and lost eight games last year and has shown plenty of stuff in the preliminary workouts. But with a mound staff composed of Vance, Moss, Luque, Phelps, Thurston and Clark, with Heimach, Shaute and Quinn fighting it out for relief jobs, the prospects are that only two of the half dozen newcomers may hang on. Day and Mattingly have shown the most promise.

hander outfielder and Bob Reis, an infielder, are some of the other promising rookies.

With such reserve strength as James Flowers, Rube Bressler, Harvey Hendrick, Gordon Slade, Johnny Warner and Mickey Finn, the 1930 holdovers, the chances of the Robins are none too encouraging, although Uncle Robbie may look with favor on either Rosenfield or Howell to balance the left-handers complex of his outfield.

Vance, Babe Herman and Harry Hendrick are still unsigned and although they are on the ground, and working out. However, their salary tangle is expected to be ironed out within the next few weeks.

PURDY POPULAR IN BIRD'S CAMP

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12.—Hall the King.

Long live King Pid. In case you wonder what all the shouting is about, it is all because of the popularity of Pid Purdy, the little outfielder of the Columbus Red Birds.

Having been elected "King of the March Festival" held here last year while Columbus Club was in training here, Purdy came back early this winter to play golf and incidentally renew his social program.

So it seems that Purdy is in line to sit on the throne again this Spring. Purdy, who is dubbed "God's gift to women," by the other players is already being boosted as the king of the festival and his election seems certain.

There's a little matter of votes cast for the candidates, having something to do with the right of succession, but Purdy has the ball players and most of the women working for him.

"I'll win in a walk," declared Purdy, who cannot be said to be suffering from an inferiority complex regardless of what else he may be accused of.

Incidentally the little infielder, formerly with the Cincinnati Reds, claims he's on his way back to the big show and has served warning that he expects to hit .350 this season.

SINGER SUICIDES AFTER ARGUMENT

NEW YORK.—A quarrel with his wife over a telephone call he had received caused William Gustafson, a bass singer with the Metropolitan Opera Company, to commit suicide, police said today. He shot himself in his apartment here last night.

Police who investigated said after the singer received a telephone call, his wife became angry and was preparing to leave with her two children for her mother's home in Boston. While his wife made arrangements to leave, Gustafson drew a pistol from a drawer and sent a bullet through his head.

Gustafson, who was 42, appeared in important roles here this winter.

PRECAUTION IS USED AT BLAZE

CLEVELAND.—Armed with machine guns and shot guns, squads of police and bank guards surrounded the entrance of a branch bank of the Cleveland Trust Company today when fire broke out in the three-story frame building in which the bank is located.

The guards were ordered by Fan F. Meckstroch, the branch manager, who said that between $40,000 and $50,000 in cash was stored in the bank's vaults.

Firemen prevented the flames from creeping into the bank quarters. Damage was estimated at $7,500.

DAYTON BARBER IS FOUND SLAIN

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Two theories—suicide and an attack by robbers—were investigated by authorities here today in the death of Anton T. Barber, 52, who was found in an unconscious condition in the basement of his barber shop with a bullet wound in his temple.

Police at first believed the man to be a victim of self-destruction.

He had been in financial difficulties recently, it was learned. The possibility that he was slain by robbers, however, was given credence in the fact that the barber shop was in a state of disorder, chairs having been upset, and bottles, combs and scissors having been knocked from shelves.

WILL CONTEST NOW SETTLED

NEW LEXINGTON, O.—By mutual consent of principals, the suit brought to contest the will of the late Mary J. Newberry has been dismissed, it was today announced by Judge T. D. Price of common pleas court.

According to the agreement reached, the sum of $48,500 was to be divided among the plaintiffs, Anna Shepherd, Mary Schofield, Jasper W. Newberry, W. A. Williams and George W. Williams. Mrs. Lydia A. Pickens also was allowed $10,000.

For the sake of the family pride it may be a good thing that some of the ancestors people boast about are dead.

JURY WILL PROBE LISBON SHOOTING

LISBON, O.—The Columbiana Co Grand jury will reopen its investigation into the fatal shooting of James Hoskins, 38, who died in a street fight in Wellsville, on March 16, 1923, next Monday it was announced.

The action in calling a continued probe of the killing followed the return of Wellsville police chief John Fultz and prosecutor John E. Baunkecht, of East Palestine from Clay-co, Kentucky, where they found Reuben Smith, 40, witness to the shooting.

Farmer Freeman, 52, of Wellsville, has been charged with the murder. Smith is said to have informed Prosecutor Baunkecht that a man other than Freeman fired the shot which killed Hoskins.

Trade Improved Robin's Outlook

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 12.—With replacement made at second base and in left field, the Brooklyn Robins will come up to scratch this season one of the strongest clubs ever to represent Flatbush.

The trade at the close of last season which made Robins of Fresno Thompson and Lefty O'Leary and sent Clise Dudley, Jim Elliott and Hal Lee to the Phillies has more than satisfactorily plugged the two outstanding Robin weak spots, which broke their 1930 pennant drive.

Fresco, fast and spry, a sure fielder and a potential .300 hitter dovetails in perfectly alongside the brilliant Glen Wright in the play around second base. Fresco can go to his right or left with equal facility, has perfect throwing control and while not as powerful at the bat, is a big fielding improvement over Jake Flowers, the key-stone custodian of 1930.

O'Doul's record speaks for itself. The black-haired Irishman batted .383 last year after leading the league with .398 in 1929. He brings enough batting strength to the lineup to condone for occasional lapses in the outfield.

For the first time in fully a score of years, Manager Wilbert Robinson brought his flock to the southland with his 1931 lineup definitely decided on. With an outfielder having a batting average of .370 and an infield listed with a .310 average, and a pitching staff needing only another southpaw, the regular Robin battle line was a simple matter for the portly Brooklyn leader.

Del Bissonette, fifteen pounds heavier and completely recovered from the mastoid affliction of last season, will be at first. Thompson will get the call at second, Wally Gilbert at third and Wright at shortstop.

A promising group of youngsters has been recruited by Brooklyn scouts and with last season's material still available, good reserve strength can be marshalled by Uncle Robbie. The most promising of the new comers is Ernest Lombardi, a catcher, purchased last season from the new Oakland club of the coast league. Lombardi hit .370 and had a fielding average of .975 last season. He is expected to help the spectacular Al Lopez carry the catching burden this season.

Shaute's arm went dead in 1928 but Robbie is bringing him along slowly and may make a winner of him.

The Brooklyn boss has performed pitching miracles with has-beens in other years, notably Jack Combs and Rube Marguard.

Watson Clark, who won 13 and lost 13 last season, and Freddy Heimach, former Yankee, are the only two left handers in the pitching lists. Great doings are expected from Dazzy Vance, who although still unsigned, reported weeks in advance of his usual reporting time to work himself in shape.

Ray Moss, recovering from the neuritis, which retarded him last season, has had a boiling out siege at Hot Springs and figures to be one of the most effective of the moundmen.

Among the newcomers, Clyde Day, a righthander from Kansas City and Phil Gallivan, Bill Greene and Larry Mattingly, righthanders from Macon, appear the best prospects. Gallivan won 20 and lost eight games last year and has shown plenty of stuff in the preliminary workouts. But with a mound staff composed of Vance, Moss, Luque, Phelps, Thurston and Clark, with Heimach, Shaute and Quinn fighting it out for relief jobs, the prospects are that only two of the half dozen newcomers may hang on. Day and Mattingly have shown the most promise.

hander outfielder and Bob Reis, an infielder, are some of the other promising rookies.

With such reserve strength as James Flowers, Rube Bressler, Harvey Hendrick, Gordon Slade, Johnny Warner and Mickey Finn, the 1930 holdovers, the chances of the Robbies are none too encouraging, although Uncle Robbie may look with favor on either Rosenfield or Howell to balance the left-handers complex of his outfield.

Vance, Babe Herman and Harry Hendrick are still unsigned and officially listed as holdouts although they are on the ground, and working out. However, their salary tangle is expected to be ironed out within the next few weeks.

PURDY POPULAR IN BIRD'S CAMP

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12.—Hail the King.

Long live King Pid. In case you wonder what all the shouting is about, it is all because of the popularity of Pid Purdy, the little outfielder of the Columbus Red Birds.

Having been elected "King of the March Festival" held here last year while Columbus Club was in training here, Purdy came back early this winter to play golf and incidentally renew his social program.

So it seems that Purdy is in line to sit on the throne again this Spring. Purdy, who is dubbed "God's gift to women," by the other players is already being boosted as the king of the festival and his election seems certain.

There's a little matter of votes cast for the candidates, having something to do with the right of succession, but Purdy has the ball players and most of the women working for him.

"I'll win in a walk," declared Purdy, who cannot be said to be suffering from an inferiority complex regardless of what else he may be accused of.

Incidentally the little infielder, formerly with the Cincinnati Reds, claims he's on his way back to the big show and has served warning that he expects to hit .350 this season.

U. S. Rider in Grand National

The only American who will ride in the Grand National Steeplechase, England's turf classic, regarded as the most gruelling race in the world, is Albert C. Bostwick (above). He is affectionately known in Eastern social circles as "Pete," and is without a peer as a gentleman rider and also shines as a star poloist.

HOLDOUTS ARE NOW REDUCED

Carl Reynolds of White Sox Signs Contract; Bill Terry Expected To Sign.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The holdout list of big league ballplayers was reduced to thirteen today as the result of the action of outfielder Carl Reynolds in coming to terms with the Chicago White Sox late yesterday.

The "unlucky thirteen" are: Bill Terry, Giants; Dazzy Vance and Babe Herman, Brooklyn; Chuck Klein, Phillies; Chick Hafey and Frank Frisch, Cardinals; Larry French, Pittsburgh; Rip Collins and Lu Blue, Browns; Eddie Morgan, Cleveland; Al Simmons, Athletics; and Jitney Ford and Chuck Dressen, Cincinnati.

All of these unsigned players cannot strictly be called holdouts, however. Frisch usually does not sign until he reports at training camp. Simmons, who is working out at Hot Springs, also is generally late in coming to terms and has stated he anticipates no difficulty in arriving at an agreement with Connie Mack.

Considerable hullabaloo is being raised about Vance and Herman, but you can bet all the oolong in Hong Kong that this pair will be in the fold before they pay many more dinner checks with their own currency. They always have signed and they always will. Herman's chief lament, in fact, is that he wants the club to pay a dentist's bill amounting to a couple of centuries.

Vance wants $25,000, or $2,500 more than the club has offered. The officials feel that this pair should not receive salaries which would dwarf those of Lefty O'Doul, Glenn Wright, Johnny Fredrick and other stars of the team.

Morgan, who married recently, is determined to quit the game but the Cleveland infield will not be crippled because Lou Fonseca, once the league's leading hitter, is playing a stellar game at first base.

Ford and Dressen are not particularly important to the Reds, because Dan Howley is building a young team at Cincinnati. But the services of Klein, Hafey, French and Collins are highly valuable to their respective clubs. It is not known here just how serious these three cases are. Hafey wants $15,000 and Klein $18,000, which in each case is about $3,000 more than they have been offered.

Terry is the most important holdout of the lot, as his loss would wreck the Giants unless another A-1 first baseman were seured in a trade for him. But Memphis Bill indicated the other day that he was weakening badly when he reduced his demand from $30,000 to $25,000, which is $2,500 more than the club's final offer.

The lure of the game is growing greater with each passing day, and it would not be surprising to see the big first baseman crack under the strain at any moment.

BROWNING BEATS CANADIAN FLASH

COLUMBUS, March 12.—Big Jim Browning was hailed today as the first wrestler to take a decision in Columbus from the Canadian whirlwind, Al Baffert.

After losing the first fall in 52 minutes because he could not break a short arm scissors grip, the giant Missourian clamped down on Baffert with a body scissors which brought results in 31 minutes.

The final stanza found both men ripping into each other in a cyclone of headlocks, scissors and wristlocks. Tactics which Baffert said were unnecessarily rough a kick to the jaw, felled the Frenchman after eight minutes and Browning pinned the Canadian grappler for the decision.

SINGER SUICIDES AFTER ARGUMENT

NEW YORK.—A quarrel with his wife over a telephone call he had received caused William Gustafson, a bass singer with the Metropolitan Opera Company, to commit suicide, police said today. He shot himself in his apartment here last night.

Police who investigated said after the singer received a telephone call, his wife became angry and was preparing to leave with her two children for her mother's home in Boston. While his wife made arrangements to leave, Gustafson drew a pistol from a drawer and sent a bullet through his head.

Gustafson, who was 42, appeared in important roles here this winter.

PRECAUTION IS USED AT BLAZE

CLEVELAND.—Armed with machine guns and shot guns, squads of police and bank guards surrounded the entrance of a branch bank of the Cleveland Trust Company today when fire broke out in the three-story frame building in which the bank is located.

The guards were ordered by Fan F. Meckstroch, the branch manager, who said that between $40,000 and $50,000 in cash was stored in the bank's vaults.

Firemen prevented the flames from creeping into the bank quarters. Damage was estimated at $7,500.

DAYTON BARBER IS FOUND SLAIN

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Two theories—suicide and an attack by robbers—were investigated by authorities here today in the death of Anton T. Reiter, 52, who was found in an unconscious condition in the basement of his barber shop with a bullet wound in his temple.

Police at first believed the man to be a victim of self-destruction.

He had been infamously difficult recently, it was learned. The possibility that he was slain by robbers, however, was given credence in the fact that the barber shop was in a state of disorder, chairs having been upset, and bottles, combs and scissors having been knocked from shelves.

SECOND NEGRO NOW ON TRIAL

BUCYRUS, O., March 12.—Taking of testimony was to be started today in the trial of Blanton Ralls, second negro to be indicted for the murder of Sheriff George Davenport of Crawford-co. The defendant is a nephew of Walter Ralls for whom the death penalty was recommended last week.

Young Ralls, according to the state, admitted carrying the shotgun with which Davenport was slain on Jan. 23.

RADIO DEBATE

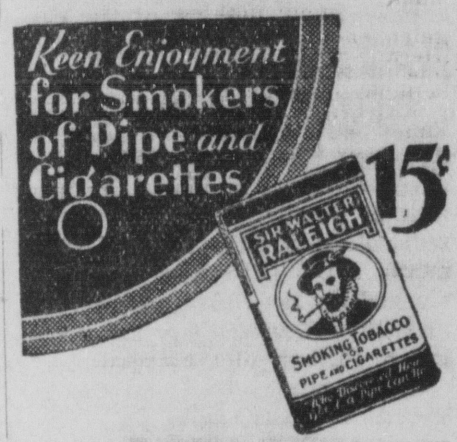

NEW YORK.—The Anderson plan of liquor control, as embodied in the Wickersham report, will be the subject of a radio debate between representatives of Harvard University and the University of Chicago, from 4 to 5 p. m. (EST.) March 14.

The subject of the debate, which will be heard over the Columbia broadcasting system, is "Resolved that the Anderson plan, as embodied in the Wickersham report, constitutes the best method of dealing with present prohibition problems."

MEXICO CITY.—In an official protest made here by Governor Trejo of Lower California, American companies were charged with "not cooperating as promised in reorganizing under Mexican laws." He said the firms in his state originally promised to aid his government's nationalization program.

ORDINANCE NO. 721 Providing for the Issuance of Bonds of the City of Circleville, Ohio, for the Purpose of Constructing an Extension to the Sewer System of Said City Upon and Within East Main Street.

Whereas, this Council has requested the City Auditor to issue her certificate as to the estimated life of the property, asset or improvement proposed to be acquired or constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to, and the City Auditor has certified to this Council such estimated life as exceeding five years, and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as twenty-five years.

Now, Therefore, be it Ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Circleville, Ohio, in the principal sum of $7,500.00, in order to provide a fund for the purpose of constructing an extension to the sanitary sewer system of said city in East Main Street, and to provide a fund for the payment of not to exceed one year's interest on said bonds. That said bonds shall be issued in one lot and that anticipatory notes shall not be issued in connection with the same.

Section 2. That bonds of the City of Circleville, Ohio, shall be issued in the principal sum of $7,500.00 for the purpose aforesaid. Each of said bonds shall be in the denomination of $50.00, with the exception of the last and final bond issued in said series which shall be for $300.00, and said bonds shall be dated March 1st, 1931, and shall bear interest at the rate of 4-1/2 per centum per annum payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October of each year until the principal sum is paid, provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided for in the resolution of Council approving the award thereof. Said bonds shall mature as follows:

Two (2) Five Hundred Dollar ($500.00) Bonds on October 1st in each of the years from 1932 to 1938, both inclusive, with the exception of one (1) Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) bond and one (1) Three Hundred Dollar ($300.00) bond, which two last named bonds shall both mature on the 1st day of October 1939, which maturities are hereby determined to be in substantially equal annual installments.

The principal and interest of all said bonds shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Circleville, Ohio.

Section 3. That said bonds shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; that they are issued in pursuance of this ordinance and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor, and sealed with the corporate seal of said city. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the City Auditor. Said bonds shall bear such consecutive numbers as the City Auditor shall determine.

Section 4. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds, promptly when, and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said serial bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all taxable property in said City of Circleville, State of Ohio, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall be in full for not less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section II of Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with all interest collected on the same shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same falls due.

Section 5. That said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity, and if said Trustees refuse to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law under the direction of the Finance Committee and the Auditor, but not for less than their par value and accrued interest; the bond sale advertisement shall state that any one desiring to do so, may present a bid or bids for such bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore fixed, provided, however, that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be in whole or multiples thereof; the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium and accrued interest thereon, and the amount of said bonds issued for interest, shall be used for the discharge of the principal of said bonds, and the premium and accrued interest received from such sale and the amount of said bond issued for interest shall be transferred to be applied by them in the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.
